Have Grooming Essentials Ready To Go

The best time to pack cosmetic and grooming paraphernelia is when no trip is planned! Use leisure time to assemble a custom-tailored travel kit that's always ready. A plastic case or small piece of luggage will serve the purpose. This kit also makes an ideal gift for Christmas.

Below is a general check list to assure that essentials are not overlooked:

A washcloth, face towel and bar of soap in a container in case hotels or restrooms are fresh out.

Head band or scarf to wrap around the head when face washing.

Toothbrush in a holder and toothpaste.

A razor, tissues, cotton swabs, cotton balls.

Hair and beauty aids that you use such as hand lotion, shampoo, creme rinse, astringent.

Hair accessories -- rollers, hair pins, comb and brush, shower cap.

Cosmetics, makeup remover, a small bottle of perfume or cologne.

Instead of carrying large containers, transfer creams and liquids into plastic jars and bottles.

No matter where you're headed, it's well to be prepared to give emergency aid to clothes, too. Transfer detergent or soap to a plastic bag or small plastic squeeze bottle so that lingerie and hose can be washed out. Tuck a clothesline into the kit, along with mini clothespins to hang the "wash." Pack extra plastic bags for any soiled clothes.

Buy or make a pint-size sewing kit. Stick pins and needles into the stubs of an empty match book; then wind black, white and several different colored threads around the cover. Have a small scissor handy for sewing repairs or just to cut loose threads.

The value of such a travel kit is that it's always ready at a moment's notice. Replace used towels and washcloths with clean supplies when unpacking. Fill up empty toiletry and makeup containers and store the kit for another trip.

This is an ideal gift for a high school student who is beginning to go to state conventions or school related conferences. A college bound teenager will also welcome this at Christmas.

CONSTRUCTION IN STATE MAY HASTEN RECOVERY FROM RECESSION

WILLIAMSBURG - An increase in construction during October has given one of the state's leading economists hope that the Old Dominion will hasten its recovery from the recession.

Dr. Leland E. Traywick, editor of the Virginia Business Report, said that building permits were up 10.6 percent in October over the same month a year ago. The monthly report is published by the Bureau of Business Research at the School of Business Administration at the College of William and Mary.

Traywick said that an increase in building permits is particularly important because it is a "leading indicator" that usually preceeds an overall turnabout in the economy. He added that cities showing "outstanding increases this past month" in building permits were Roanoke, Winchester, Petersburg, Newport News, Hampton, Charlottesville, Danville and the tri-cities of Norfolk - Virginia Beach - Portsmouth.

In commenting on the state's overall economic picture, Traywick said that October was "all in all not a bad month, but it could have been better." Several economic factors contributed to show little sign of a speedy recovery.

Crime Rate In U.S. Increased In '74

Serious crime in the United States was 18 percent greater in 1974 than in 1973, with the largest increase in suburban and rural areas, Attorney General Edward H. Levi announced today.

The final figures for 1974 were contained in the FBI's annual Uniform Crime Reports (UCR), released recently by FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley. Preliminary figures released earlier set the increase for the year at 17 percent.

"These final figures merely underscore what we already know," Mr. Levi said. "The problem of serious crime is immense.

"They also indicate that crime is, indeed, a national problem that reaches into every part of our society. A coordinated national response by all segments of the criminal justice system and at all levels of society is vital if we are to bring this problem under control."

Other major findings in the final UCR figures:

— There were an estimated 10,192,000 serious crimes in 1974, compared with 8,666,200 in 1973. In 1974, there were 969,800 violent crimes and 9,222,200 property crimes reported to police.

— Cities of more than 250,000 population registered a serious crime increase of 12 percent, while the rate in suburban and rural areas each rose 20 percent.

— There were 4,821 crimes per 100,000 inhabitants in the United States - nearly one crime for every 20 persons - a 17 percent increase over 1973 and a 32 percent increase over 1969.

— There were 459 violent crimes per 100,000 inhabitants, a 10 percent increase over 1973, and 4,363 property crimes per 100,000, a 17 percent rise.

— There were an estimated 9.1 million arrests for all criminal offenses except traffic violations in 1974. This represents an arrest rate of 46 per 1,000 inhabitants in 1974, compared with a rate of 42 per 1,000 in 1973.

— Arrests increased three percent in 1974 over 1973, with

One hundred two pints of blood must be donated at this visit in order for Appomattox County to remain 100% of its quota. Seventeen year olds are reminded that they may donate with parental consent and are encouraged to begin the practice of donating blood now!

A nursery will be provided for children of blood donors and the ladies of the Order of Eastern Star will be in charge of the canteen for this visit.

The Blood Program in Appomattox County is sponsored by the Appomattox Junior Woman's Club with Mrs. Mary Catherine Whitehead as the club's representative. Rev. Earnie Lucas is Chairman of the Blood Program for the county and is assisted by Mrs.Lucy Harvey.

Rural customers are again reminded to purchase their stamps in advance and affix them to all letters and cards mailed during December. The additional volume of mail alone forces the carriers to work longer hours, and they do not have time to affix stamps to several thousand cards and letters.

Pack and wrap all parcels securely. Include a slip of paper with the name and address of addressee, and also your return address inside the parcel. If the outside wrapper is torn or multilated, there will be identification inside. The 10c rate is in effect for all greeting cards, sealed or unsealed. Please separate letters and cards into two bundles and mark them "APPOMATTOX" and "OUT OF TOWN".

As you know, the Christmas season brings an increase in the amount of mail processed and delivered.

To serve you better, we urge you to help in a few ways. Please use 5-digit Zip Code numbers on all your mail, especially now. Also, please try to mail your Christmas packages before December 10 and cards and letters before December 15. To help you get your mail moving faster, we are providing you with Christmas mailing labels to use in separating Christmas cards and letters.
